

Testing

Testing of 10 Lifting Twistlocks
in one step

MEC is able to design and manufacture individual test jigs to carry out a variety of certification tests. The pictures show a test jig that was designed by MEC engineers in order to test 10 lifting twistlocks at the same time for class approval. Due to the highly efficient design, MEC is able to perform such tests in the most cost and timely efficient manner.

Shear test of FAT